DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Lake (US patent 5,079,794).

The patent to Lake discloses the invention substantially as is claimed, including a wiper system (see figure) having a rotating center spindle (6) driven by a motor (not shown), a wiper arm (5) coupled with the spindle via a right-angle lever "portion" at one end and a wiper blade (9) attached to the wiper arm other end for wiping the windscreen (2). Note that in the stop position (shown in solid line) the arm is located at a lower edge of the windscreen. Also, note that the lever portion is constructed such that the rotating center thereof (at spindle 6) is located between a proximal and free end portion of the wiper arm and is spaced away from the wiper arm toward a center of the windscreen (2). The arm (5) is below the spindle (6) and offset by the lever portion.

Art Unit: 1744

The patent to Lake discloses all of the above recited subject matter with the exception of a connecting member joining the wiper arm with the lever portion.

While Lake discloses the wiper arm and lever portion being a unitary piece, to make such in multiple pieces joined together would have been obvious to one of skill in the art to simplify the manufacturing process. Such would enable the manufacture of simply shaped arm components that can be assembled together into a complex shape instead of a complex unitarily shaped arm. Further, the unity or diversity of components, lacking some criticality of such, appears to relate more to a choice of the manufacturer and the availability of machines to make such components than any inventive concept.

Response to Arguments

As set forth above, while Lake does not disclose a connecting member joining the wiper arm with the lever "portion", to provide such would be an obvious variation. Making that which is a single piece of multiple pieces does not normally involve invention, especially as there appears no patentable significance to using multiple pieces instead of a single piece.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 2 and 3 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

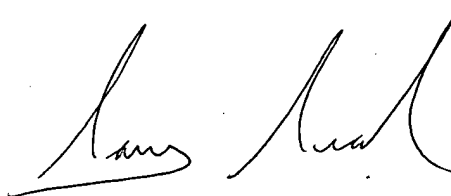

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
